

Question # 4: What procedures will a special education teacher use to resolve caseload concerns?

Resolving Caseload Concerns

Caseloads will be reviewed at least twice per year by individual LEA special education teachers with their building principal and/or special education coordinator. In addition to scheduled reviews, caseload will also be reviewed under the following circumstances:

- When a specified caseload is exceeded. If the caseload limit is or will be exceeded by 10% for a period of 6 weeks, then a review may be requested in writing.
- When a teacher has a concern about his or her ability to effectively perform the essential functions of his or her job due to caseload.

REQUESTING A CASELOAD REVIEW

- All requests must be in writing
- Requests should initially be given to an individual's principal/supervisor
- A committee will be appointed annually to serve as a review team in collaboration with the building principal/supervisor. Review committee members will consist of at least the special education teachers, district Special Education Director and Principal.
- The person requesting the review is responsible for gathering relevant information to support their request. This information might include, but is not limited to:
 - IEPs
 - Schedule and instructional groupings
 - Collaborative/co-teaching assignments
 - Number of buildings

PROCEDURAL STEPS

1. Informal problem solving strategies in relation to caseload concerns have been exhausted.
2. A written request for caseload review is submitted to your principal/supervisor.
3. The request is reviewed for clarification with your principal/supervisor. The principal/supervisor tries to resolve the concern at this point.
4. If the caseload concerns cannot be satisfactorily resolved, the request is then sent to the caseload committee.
5. Within 15 working days, the caseload committee will review the request and give a recommendation to the individual's principal/supervisor.
6. If a teacher still has concerns, they may request a joint review that includes the Superintendent, the Special Education Director, the GWAEA Regional Facilitator and the teacher.
7. If a decision cannot be reached, the GWAEA director of Special Education and Superintendent will be responsible for a final decision.
