

On Thursday, April 14, book author Dr. Paul Mullen spoke with Lincoln Elementary students about having dreams and striving to reach them. Students at Lincoln have been listening recently to one of his books: The Day I Hit a Home Run at Principal Park. Dr. Mullen also presented information at the Family Literacy Night which was held later that evening at Lincoln Elementary. Family Literacy Night held other sessions including; information about the Washington Public Library summer reading program, a book giveaway, and bookmark making. Family Literacy Night was a fun night for everyone!
